

Australian National University

INTERESTED IN WORKING
FOR SOCIAL JUSTICE?

THURSDAY 1 MARCH 2012
1PM, LAW THEATRE

Are you interested in undertaking community or social outreach work to complement your law degree? The Law Reform and Social Justice program offers students – from first year to final year – a range of volunteer project opportunities, exploring issues ranging from legal lessons for prisoners through to engaging with the upcoming referendum dealing with constitutional recognition of indigenous persons.

Other opportunities include:

- > bi-lingual storytime sessions with Libraries ACT
- > provision of “just in time” legal information services
- > reporting on current human rights issues in the ACT
- > anti-discrimination law reform

Contact

E Irsj@law.anu.edu.au

W www.law.anu.edu.au/Irsj

ANU College of Law